New Residents Cont.

He is married and has a son, Michael, 18 months old. Dr. Alandete commutes from his home in Harrisburg every day except when he is on call one night each week. He has been at Polyclinic Hospital for one year; after his two month tour of duty with us, he will return there for another year of work to complete his residency in pediatrics.

Service Administration.

After graduation his next five years were spent in Chicago working for private and public agencies. He then went to New York and later to Ohio to work. He came to us from Harrisburg by way of Altoona where he worked at the General Hospital.

New Residents

Joins Staff

We wish to welcome two new doctors to our hospital.

Dr. John J. Danyo replaces Dr. Kong on the orthopedic staff. He came to us from Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia and plans to return there for another year and a half after he completes his children's work with us.

His wife and 18 month old daughter, Cindy, are living with him in the apartment house on the grounds.

Dr. Al Alandete, our new pediatric resident, replaces Dr. Carim from Polyclinic Hospital in Harrisburg. He is a graduate of the University of Columbia, South America.

Pediatric Resident Leaves Staff

Dr. Hyder Carim from Hyderabad, India, was our pediatric resident until January 1. He resides in Harrisburg with his attractive wife and two and a half year old son, Altaf.

Dr. Carim is a graduate of Osmania Medical College in Hyderabad which is forty miles southeast of Bombay, India. He has served a one year internship at the Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital, and is now serving a two-year residency at the same hospital. Two months of this residency, November and December, were served with us.

Mrs. Carim is a social worker, presently working for the Dauphin County Child Care Service. Son Altaf is enjoying rides to and from his kindergarten.

We wish the family well during their brief stay in the U.S.A.

Jane Osterstock Fisher and her husband are still in Lock Haven where both are teaching.

Christine Hudock lives in Hershey and works in Middletown at the Air Force Base.

Christmas Decorations

Dr. Saunderson was chairman of the "Hanging of the Greens." His committees did an excellent job of decorating the hospital; this was especially appreciated by the patients who could not go home for Christmas.

The main entrance gave one a feeling of warmth and welcome; there was a tree with colored lights at each side of the door and a lighted wreath above it.

The lights in the lobby were made into gold chandeliers with red balls. The tree was decorated with white lights and silver bells. Across the arches were red and green balls. Christmas cards filled the bulletin boards and the two arches.

A Christmas card tree was just outside of Miss Laux's office.

The physiotherapists started to make their decorations weeks ahead of time. Mr. Masitis did the art work; all the girls in the department worked hard to prepare for the big day. The patients helped to make a huge wreath and an archway for the door to the activity room. The leaves were made from squares of newspaper on a frame made of wood and chicken wire. They were sprayed green and decorated with red ribbon bows. The big room looked like a living room with fireplace, rug, lamp and a rocking chair. Santa Claus was stuck in the chimney. Each window sill had a Christmas scene, and all sorts of ornaments were hanging from the ceiling around a large green ball in the center.

From the center of the ceiling in the fitting room of the brace shop hung a big green ball representing the earth. Santa and his reindeer were orbiting the earth.

At the end of the hall on third floor was a large tree made by Miss Dohner's classes (with a little help from Mr. Becker, the carpenter). The tree was made from wood painted green; it was covered with colored lights, each one in a disk made from two aluminum pie tins.

The school rooms and the sewing room were appropriately decorated for Xmas.

The theme in Ward 13 was "Hark the Herald Angels Sing". There were angels, clouds, and musical notes. Blue cellophane covered the lights.

Wards 14 and 16 had the traditional balls, wreath, and bells. A sign "Merry Christmas" in Ward 14 could be seen from the lobby.

Wards 23 and 25 had strings on the lights and cotton lambs on the walls. Tinsel was strung from one end of the wards to the other.

Ward 20 had holly around all the doorways and stars on the windows. The end rooms and hall had hand-painted pictures of Christmas scenes.

Ward 24 had many handsome drummer boys. There were also snowmen and bells.

Each window sill in the dining room had an attractive arrangement made from pine

We wish to thank all the organizations and individuals in our area who once again helped us to make this Christmas season a happy one for our children. We especially thank the Elizabethtown Rotary Club who once more contributed a Santa Claus and helpers for those who could not get home.

What's Buzzin' Cuzzin'

could or could not get with two BIG DOLLARS!

Fifteen children wrestled with advanced Christmas math for two hours, but all ended well as the store presented each child with a gift.

This was Terry Gates first shopping trip. Another FIRST for our hospital.

Thank you notes were written by Dottie Kratzer and Marie Bungard.

The Staff Committee consisted of: L. Cannon, Chairman, M. Dohner, J. Ebersole M. Thome, and W. Wilkinson.

Mrs. Thelma Miller (teaching staff) asked Santa for a brand new Buick for Christmas, and of all things - got it!! It helped her to entertain her daughter and son-in-law here for the holidays

Mrs. Audrey Kretzer, a member of the operating room staff, was a patient at the Lancaster General Hospital in January.

Two F. H. A. groups were here to entertain the small girls on Ward 23. The Bethany Bible Fellowship from Lebanon entertained the boys on Ward 24.

Subscription Campaign To End February, 10

The subscription campaign started on January 10, and will end on Feb. 10, 1964 in the hospital proper. Hospital staff names have been assigned to teachers so that the enthusiasm of the children can be controlled. Competition is keen and spirits are in high gear. May the best class room win!

With "extra permission" the children on the wards were allowed to usher in the New Year, by watching the midnight T. V. - Time Square, New York City, celebration.

On New Year's Day there was a luscious chicken dinner with eggnog ice cream and assorted salted nuts, plus all the good parades and football games on T.V.

Did you hear about the Christmas packages under Mixell's tree with the tags "to Harry from Harry?" (Sure cure for --- !)

Jay Fair is telling us he went home for Christmas over slippery, slidey roads in one of Lebanon's "ambulance cars." (Jay is six years of age.)

Rickey Misner's grandfather could be slowly heading for the poor house with a grandson who collects a quarter for every A on his report card. In October Rickey (now in Grade 4) collected two dollars, and in January two and a half dollars. He has eight years "to go" before the big high school sheep skin day.

A few days before Christmas, three station wagon trips were made to the local W. T. Grant store loaded with anxious ambulatory patients and their heavy wallets. There is a toss up as to what was the biggest surprise. What you
